

Andy Goldsworthy

Andy Goldsworthy is a British Sculptor and photographer. He is known as a land artist because he uses things found in the environment to make his sculptures.

Why study Andy Goldsworthy?

Andy Goldsworthy used natural materials found in lots of different environments. As Chase View Primary School is near to Cannock Chase we have lots of natural resources available to us.

Key facts

Full Name	Andy Goldsworthy
Born	26 th July 1956 in Cheshire, England. He now lives and works in Scotland in a village called Penpont.
Education	Andy Goldsworthy studied Art at Bradford College.

Pebbles have been used to create shape and show different shades of colour.

Andy Goldsworthy created this piece of art using different shades of leaves. Once Andy Goldsworthy took the photograph, he leaves the sculpture to naturally decay.

For this sculpture, Andy Goldsworthy has weaved loads of different sized twigs together into a circular shape.

Key Vocabulary

Sculpture- a piece of 3D art.

Natural resources- materials that occur naturally such as twigs, leaves, plants, dirt.