Chase View Stick Insect Fact Sheet

We have stick insects ready for rehoming!

Our stick insects require a home that is 3x the body length of the insect in height and 2x the insect in width. The more stick insects you want to keep, the bigger their home needs to be.

Stick insects hang upside down to shed their skin and need a high space to hang from.

There are plenty of YouTube videos with advice on cheap setups.

Other than their tank or container, care is very simple. Stick insects eat fresh bramble (blackberry). The branches need to be stood in a container of water that should be covered to prevent them from falling in and drowning. We had put holes in the lid of a plastic tub. The bottom of their home can either be an insect substrate or simply kitchen towel. This is easy to keep clean and makes it very easy to see any eggs.

Once a day, the stick insect enclosure needs misting with water from a spray bottle. This helps to stop them drying out when molting.

Checklist

Stick insect tank
Water spray bottle
Container for branches
Bramble (growing wild all over)
Paper towel or substrate

Personal Hygiene

We have a large number of instances of children coming to school with head lice, verrucae and other such complaints. We politely ask that children are treated and wear the appropriate protection where applicable to prevent the infection spreading to other children.

Thank you.

Parking Problems Again

We have a number of parents that are persistently parking on the driveway up to school when collecting and dropping off their children. Can you please refrain from parking here and consider walking to school to reduce the amount of traffic at dropping off and collection times. Thank you.

Sleep rules!

Without enough sleep, you can struggle to concentrate, can feel really cross one minute and like crying the next, or just like you want to crash out and lie down – when everyone else is busy getting on and having fun.

Everyone needs a different amount of sleep and this changes as you grow up.

As a guide, if you're in primary school you should be getting 10-11 hours' sleep a night, so that means going to bed between 7 and 8pm every night.

Once you get to 10 years old, you may need a little less, maybe 8 ½ to 9 ½ hours a night.
